

a guide for
Morning and Evening
Prayer

Why Use a Prayer Guide?

Daily Prayer. Early Christians, looking to uphold the practice of their Jewish forefathers, adopted morning and evening prayer (Psalm 141:2) as their regular practice of worship and devotion. They saw this as the

*For from the rising of the sun to its setting my name will be great among the nations, and in every place incense will be offered to my name, and a pure offering. For my name will be great among the nations, says the LORD of hosts.
Malachi 1:11*

fulfillment of what Malachi prophesied. Until the advent of the printing press, Christians often met together in churches, homes (or catacombs) for morning and evening prayer and Scripture reading. This communal life of prayer has been mostly lost. This is one attempt to recover some of the riches of the old ways.

Communal Prayer. Many Christians focus their devotional time on studying Scripture. While reading the Scripture is crucial, we often deprive ourselves of the full diet of life in Christ when we make study an end in itself. We read and study to know God. But knowing God is always expressed in prayer and worship. Succinctly put: we read to pray. Prayerful worship is the real aim of all study. This prayer guide is meant to help us reclaim our full diet of prayer, study, and worship. This will help our study be more fruitful.

How to Use this Guide

This order of Scriptures and prayers is meant as a guide, and not a straightjacket, for your own personal prayers. Just as the Lord's Prayer is meant to shape the way you pray, so this guide is meant to be a springboard to fuel and shape your own devotion to the Lord. All elements are optional, made available for your benefit. Specific guidelines for each element are printed red in the margins. Here is an overview of Morning Prayer:

To begin, read one or two Opening Sentences, (according to the liturgical season)

Then pray one of the morning psalms, or sing a hymn

Then read and reflect on the Scriptures from your reading plan, or the plan in the back of this booklet

Finish with prayer for your day, being guided by your Scripture reading, and concluding with the Lord's Prayer

Why Use a Reading Plan?

Communal Life. Should we meet at church every morning before work? Maybe. Donuts could help. But for now, we can share in the same way of life, the same prayers, and even reading the same Scripture passages. With this aim in mind, Scottish pastor Robert Murray M'Cheyne (1813-43) developed a Bible reading plan for his entire church. For "as many as were made willing by God" to join in the plan, they would benefit from "feeding in the same portion of the green pasture at the same time." This, he says, will strengthen "The sweet bond of Christian love and unity ... We shall be often led to think of those dear brothers and sisters in the Lord, here and elsewhere, who agree to join with us in reading those portions. We shall oftener be led to agree on earth, touching something we shall ask of God. We shall pray over the same promises, mourn over the same confessions, praise God in the same songs, and be nourished by the same words of eternal life."

A Plan? What if I get behind? What if my time is crunched? Plans are just that: a plan. The point isn't to punish ourselves if we get behind, but to not waste time when we do come to read. If you get behind, skip to today. If your time is crunched, read one chapter in the morning, and one chapter during your lunch break, or at night.

Won't I feel bogged down? M'Cheyne gives good advice here. "Some may engage in reading with [cheerfulness] for a time, and afterwards feel it a burden, grievous to be borne. They may find conscience dragging them through the appointed task without any relish of the heavenly food. If this be the case with any, throw aside the fetter, and feed at liberty in the sweet garden of God. My desire is not to cast a snare upon you, but to be a helper of your joy."

Let your steadfast love comfort me according to your promise to your servant. My soul longs for your salvation; I hope in your word. My eyes long for your promise; I ask, "When will you comfort me?"
Psalm 119:76, 81-82

Fellowship with One Another. As we join together in seeking the Lord, consider also pursuing deeper spiritual friendships with a couple others in the congregation. For a vision for how to pursue this, read "A Guide for Spiritual Friendship" following the order for Evening Prayer.

May our God unite us together in a joyful shared life, abiding in Christ!

Morning Psalm

Psalm 95:1-7

Oh come, let us sing to the LORD;
let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation!
2 Let us come into his presence with thanksgiving;
let us make a joyful noise to him with songs of praise!
3 For the LORD is a great God,
and a great King above all gods.
4 In his hand are the depths of the earth;
the heights of the mountains are his also.
5 The sea is his, for he made it,
and his hands formed the dry land.
6 Oh come, let us worship and bow down;
let us kneel before the LORD, our Maker!
7 For he is our God,
and we are the people of his pasture,
and the sheep of his hand.

*One of the following morning Psalms or a morning
hymn is sung.*

Psalm 100

Make a joyful noise to the LORD, all the earth!
2 Serve the LORD with gladness!
Come into his presence with singing!
3 Know that the LORD, he is God!
It is he who made us, and we are his;
we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
4 Enter his gates with thanksgiving, and his courts with praise!
Give thanks to him; bless his name!
5 For the LORD is good; his steadfast love endures forever,
and his faithfulness to all generations.

Psalm 63:1-8

O God, you are my God; earnestly I seek you;
my soul thirsts for you;
my flesh faints for you, as in a dry and weary land
where there is no water.
2 So I have looked upon you in the sanctuary,
beholding your power and glory.

3 Because your steadfast love is better than life,
my lips will praise you.
4 So I will bless you as long as I live;
in your name I will lift up my hands.
5 My soul will be satisfied as with fat and rich food,
and my mouth will praise you with joyful lips,
6 when I remember you upon my bed,
and meditate on you in the watches of the night;
7 for you have been my help,
and in the shadow of your wings I will sing for joy.
8 My soul clings to you; your right hand upholds me.

Psalm 51:1-12

Have mercy on me, O God,
according to your steadfast love;
according to your abundant mercy
blot out my transgressions.
2 Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity,
and cleanse me from my sin!
3 For I know my transgressions,
and my sin is ever before me.
4 Against you, you only, have I sinned
and done what is evil in your sight, so that you may be justified in your words
and blameless in your judgment.
5 Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity,
and in sin did my mother conceive me.
6 Behold, you delight in truth in the inward being,
and you teach me wisdom in the secret heart.
7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean;
wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.
8 Let me hear joy and gladness;
let the bones that you have broken rejoice.
9 Hide your face from my sins,
and blot out all my iniquities.
10 Create in me a clean heart, O God,
and renew a right spirit within me.
11 Cast me not away from your presence,
and take not your Holy Spirit from me.
12 Restore to me the joy of your salvation,
and uphold me with a willing spirit.

Scripture Readings & Reflection

Open my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of your law. Psalm 119:18

The Scriptures from your reading plan are then read. After the reading take some time for silent reflection. The Scripture may then be briefly interpreted. When worshipping alone or with a family, a commentary or other lesson may be read.

Morning Prayers

Sunday Morning

Lord, our heavenly Father, at the beginning of another week we come to You for help and light. We ask that you would grant us to consecrate this day of rest to your service, and find in you all peace and strength. Enliven our devotion, that we may serve You in spirit and in truth, and lay a good foundation for our coming work. Be with us in all the public services of Your day, that we may join in them with heart and soul, and receive the blessing which You have promised to all who sincerely pray to You and faithfully hear Your Word. We ask this for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then kneeling or bowing down, pray for the day, giving thanks, interceding and making requests of the Lord. The following prayers may be used. Conclude with the Lord's Prayer.

Monday Morning

God, our Father, of whom the whole family in heaven and on earth is named: give to our household, at the beginning of this day, that grace which will keep us in the fellowship of the Christian way; and grant to each one of us that heavenly guidance and control, in all our labors, pleasures, and trials, which will maintain our hearts in peace with one another and with You. Graciously help and prosper us in the doing of our various duties with a willing and cheerful mind; and defend us all, by Your almighty power, both from inward evil and from outward harm, so that when the day is ended it may not leave us in sorrow, strife, or shame, but in true unity and thankful rest, through Your merciful favor and Your forgiving love; in Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.

Tuesday Morning

O Lord, you are the true Sun of the world, evermore rising, and never going down; by your wholesome appearing and light you nourish and make joyful, all things both in heaven and on earth: we ask You to mercifully and favorably shine into our hearts that the night and darkness of sin, and the mists of error on every side may be driven away. We ask this so that in the power of your Spirit, all our life long we would go without any stumbling or offense, and walk as in the daytime, being pure and clean from the works of darkness, and abounding in all the good works which You have prepared for us to walk in; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Wednesday Morning

Almighty and merciful Father, in whom we live and move and have our being, to whose tender compassion we owe our safety in days past, together with all the comforts of this present life, and the hopes of that which is to come: we praise You, O God, our exceeding joy. You daily pour your benefits on us. Grant that Jesus our Lord, the hope of glory, may be formed in us, in all humility, patience, and absolute surrender of our souls and bodies to Your holy will and pleasure. Do not leave us, nor forsake us, O Father, but guide us safe through all changes of our condition here, in an unchangeable love to You, and in holy peace of mind in Your love to us, till we come to dwell with You and rejoice in You for ever. Amen.

Thursday Morning

O Lord, lift up the light of Your countenance upon us; let Your peace rule in our hearts, and may it be our strength and our song. We commit ourselves to Your care and keeping this day; let Your grace be mighty in us and sufficient for us. Keep us from sin; give us the rule over our own spirits; and prevent us from speaking foolishly or harmfully with our lips. May we live together in peace and holy love. Command your blessing upon us, even life for evermore. Prepare us for all the events of the day; for its joys as well as for its trials. Give us grace to deny ourselves, to take up our cross daily, and to follow in the steps of our Lord and Master. Amen.

Friday Morning

We praise You, O God, with the morning light, and in the brightness of a new day we bless Your holy name. For all You have given to us with the gift of life, making us in Your own image and granting us to share as children in Your knowledge and Your love, in Your work and Your joy, we thank You, Heavenly Father. For all good things in the world, for food and clothing, for home and friendship, for useful tasks and pure pleasures, we thank You, Heavenly Father. For all spiritual blessings, for Your holy Word, for the Christian fellowship, for the good example and blessed memory of Your saints, for the secret influence of Your Spirit, we thank You, Heavenly Father. And above all we bless You for the redeeming life and death of Your dear Son our Savior Jesus Christ. Amen.

Saturday Morning

Almighty God, our Father and preserver: we give You thanks that out of Your own goodness You have watched over us last night and brought us to a new day; and we ask You to strengthen and guard us by Your Spirit; that we may spend it wholly in Your service and to Your glory, looking for all prosperity to Your blessing, and seeking only those things which are pleasing in Your sight. Enable us, O Lord, while we labor for the life that we now live, to also always have regard for the heavenly life which You have promised Your children. Defend us in soul and body from all harm. Show Your loving-kindness to all men and women and little children, according to the need of every living soul, especially unto those whom we love, and those who are in any kind of trouble or distress, whom we now pray for (take a moment to pray for those who weigh on your heart, and for those in your neighborhood, work, and church); protect our country and prosper Your Church; bless all who do good in the world, and restrain and avenge all who do evil. And finally, blot out our former sins, forgiving them in Your boundless mercy and purifying our hearts, that we may lead a holy life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

Prayers of Confession

Beloved, we have come together in the presence of Almighty God our Father, to thank Him for all the benefits we have received from His hands, to praise Him, to hear His holy word, and to ask for those things we need for our life and our salvation, both for ourselves and for others. To prepare ourselves in heart and mind to worship Him, let's pray in silence, and confess our sins with repentant and obedient hearts, that we may receive forgiveness by His infinite goodness and mercy. So let us silently confess our sins to God.

Then kneeling or bowing down, a brief period of silence should be taken to confess individually.

This call for Confession may be read when worshiping together.

Together, let us humbly confess our sins to God:

Holy and merciful Father, we acknowledge and confess before You our sinful nature, prone to evil and slothful in good, and all our shortcomings and offenses. You alone know how often we have sinned: in wandering from Your ways, in wasting Your gifts, in forgetting Your love. But You, O Lord, have mercy on us. We are ashamed and sorry for all the ways we have grieved You. Teach us to hate our sins; cleanse us from our secret faults; and forgive our sins, for the sake of Your dear Son. And, O holy and loving Father, help us, we ask you, to live in Your light and walk in Your ways, according to the commandments of Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Then still kneeling or bowing down, pray out loud using this prayer or one like it.

The Assurance of Pardon

This assurance of pardon or other verses on forgiveness can be read aloud when worshipping together.

May Our Almighty God, who freely pardons all who repent and turn to Him, now fulfill in every contrite heart the promise of redeeming grace; pardoning all our sins, and cleansing us from an evil conscience, through the perfect sacrifice of Christ our Lord; and may he keep us evermore in the peace and joy of a holy life so that we may love and serve Him always; in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. Amen

Scripture Readings & Reflection

The Scriptures from your reading plan are then read.

Jesus said to the Jews who had believed him, “If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free.” John 8:31-32

After the reading there may follow a period of silence for reflection. The Scripture may then be briefly interpreted. When worshipping alone or with a family, a commentary or other lesson may be read.

Evening Prayers

Then you may conclude by praying freely, casting your anxieties on the Lord. Conclude with the Lord's Prayer.

Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you, casting all your anxieties on him, because he cares for you. 1 Peter 5:6-7

Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

A Guide for Spiritual Friendship

The Christian life cannot be lived alone. We need to confess as much as we need to receive encouragement. Confessing our sins to trusted Christian brothers or sisters and committing to grow in knowing God together is foundational to our walking in the light of Christ, and thus the way “we have fellowship with one another.” Christian friendship is meant to be one of the places where we experience this fellowship of light as we journey to our heavenly home.

To pursue this kind of friendship, pray for and think of two Christian friends whom you could trust. Your elders and pastors can help connect you to others in your congregation who might be a good fit. Invite them to meet weekly as a group of three, for roughly an hour and a half. The evening prayer guide above, can provide an order for your time together:

- Opening Prayer - Read one of the opening sentences
- Confession of Particular Sins - Each take a turn naming actions, thoughts, and idolatrous desires. Allow your friends to ask questions about your motives and thoughts to explore and expose your own heart. This will help you to know what sin beneath the sin you need to repent of.
- Assuring Each Other of God's Forgiveness - After each person has confessed, read the assurance of pardon above, from last week's bulletin, or from other parts of Scripture. We need to hear of God's grace from others.
- Discussing The Scriptures You've Been Reading - After each has been assured of God's forgiveness, take time to discuss. Commit to reading the Scriptures everyday. They don't have to be the same, as long as you are all reading and engaged in God's word together. This is a great place to discuss things you don't understand as well.
- Praying and Interceding for Each Other - Reserve the last 15 minutes of your time together to pray for each other specifically. There is hardly a sweeter moment of prayer than with true friends with whom you shared so deeply.

You and your two friends should commit to each other for a year (incl. summers). At the end of the year, it would be good to reflect on whether you should form new groups to include others, or if your group should continue because of the difficult season you are in. This is a matter of prayer and wise counsel, being especially aware of our tendency to only befriend those like us (Luke 14:12-14). May the Lord reward us with deep friendship in Him!

If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. 1 John 1:6-7

*"In confession the breakthrough to community takes place. Sin demands to have a man by himself. Since the confession of sin is made in the presence of a Christian brother, the last stronghold of self-justification is abandoned. ... He can confess his sins and in this very act find fellowship for the first time."
